Key Strengths
A key strength for NMM is our people, our Board of Directors are strategic thinkers, our staff are dedicated and highly motivated and our management information systems are innovative and dependable. Collectively NMM has built high community confidence, created new partnerships, developed extensive knowledge of the Indigenous community housing sector.

As key stakeholders in Closing the Gap on Aboriginal Housing, we aspire to be a strong voice for Aboriginal Housing in WA and to make sure our housing issues stay high on the government’s agenda.

NMM Approaches
We see our job is to help our tenants get the best quality housing at an affordable rent.

We want to help our residents to manage their tenancy agreements to stay in accommodation and increase the likelihood of NMM tenants owning their own homes.

Directors
Our Whadjuk Board understand the underlying cultural issues faced by our tenants and have implemented programs to address concerns.

Company Directors believe in good Governance and strong Leadership and always busy raising funds to purchase more housing stock and continue to provide safe, healthy and sustainable housing for Indigenous people.

Our Board of Directors would appreciate any support from organisations to help service housing needs.

- By expanding tenancy and property management services to interested community housing providers.

Our cultural property and tenancy management system has emerged as a Noongar Mia Mia best-practice model

We need to stay abreast with increasing Indigenous community housing needs, the company must raise needed funds to allow for an increase of housing stock to 600 properties by 2025.

Our task is a cross-community effort and NMM are seeking support from the corporate, NGO and philanthropic sectors to assist Aboriginal people and communities improve living standards and contribute to ending Aboriginal Homelessness and advancing homeownership.
